

ALT BRIDGE CULTURAL NEWS

Year 9 trip to the Philharmonic

Year 9 had the opportunity to visit the Philharmonic Hall and attended the Going for Gold: The Orchestral Olympics event.

The event was presented by Alasdair Malloy and conducted by Michael Seal. It celebrates the 2024 Paris Olympics.

Neurodiversity

To celebrate neurodiversity week, the Arts department created a fabulous collaborative art piece- that is displayed as a permanent piece outside the DT and Art block.

Many of our creative students produced imaginative art work, which is on display in our enterprise hut.

As mentioned in our last newsletter, some of our pupils went to Liverpool Hope University to create a mural/sculpture, which was inspired by the song they wrote and performed at Eurovision ('You are not alone'). The song was also recorded and produced as a single.

We are very fortunate to have the mural on display in our grounds.

The song can be purchased by following the QR code below and all the proceeds go to families in the Ukraine.

Dot Art schools

Our Year 9 pupils have had the opportunity to take part in dot-art Schools again this year. They have created their own outcomes, based on their own theme. Once again we are so impressed with the quality of work they have produced and their ability to work independently to create some fantastic pieces of art.

We are that impressed we have created a wonderful display in the reception area, which showcases all this wonderful work.

A judging panel of respected arts professionals have now shortlisted the top 3 entries from each school.

I am happy to announce that the top 3 entrees from Alt Bridge are: Robbie J, Lexi S and Declan G.
